I'm writing this on the RHYMEBOOK app, which we haven't launched yet, but this month fasho. God gave me a new idea. I started designing the most important and only software artists, managers, & record labels will need to stay on top of their work & business.

Discognizer is being designed and built to help any artist or record label REALIZE, ORGANIZE & MONETIZE their discography! This app will be very helpful to people in the business of music, whether creating it, selling it, or anywhere in between or beyond.

Independent artists & labels will benefit from this the most. This will help me and many others become better managers. This will help us build DailyRapFacts & Stufinder faster while creating great synergy between them all.

I'll update this soon. I have a grand plan. Mad excited. @discognizer on everything.

Here are some logo ideas I'm testing out till we launch V1, the one on the site (Discognizer.com) is my favorite rn. If you have logo ideas send it to ope@discognizer.com.
